Petaling Jaya, 17 May 2012 (Thurs) – A leading specialist in the business of infrastructure and construction industry is offering work-guaranteed scholarship for one final year student currently pursuing a degree in civil engineering.

Senior General Manager of Nehemiah Reinforced Soil Sdn Bhd, Ir. Tan Cheng Chong said that the scholarship comes along with it an opportunity for employment upon graduation.

“As our company is expanding rapidly overseas, we are also looking for young engineers who are willing to be trained and posted overseas to gain further experience,” he said. “The exposure of working and living in another country is something valuable for one’s career development.”

Ir. Tan urged civil engineering students who are currently in their final year to apply for the scholarship by 31st May 2012. The successful student will be awarded a RM10, 000.00 of scholarship.

As the scholarship will also include a two-year bond with the company, Tan said it would be useful for applicants to get to know the company better during the interview process. “If they are successful, we also want them to know that they will be working with us,” he added.

The scholarship is open to all final year Civil engineering students from both public and private institutions of higher learning. Scholarship is awarded to the applicants subject to meeting the minimum academic requirement of Accumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) 3.20 or at least 2nd Class Honours Upper.

Students may apply by writing directly to career@nehemiahwalls.com, enclosing their personal resume and transcripts for all semesters.

Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.
